Roaming:

Using your mobile data abroad

Roaming is when your phone connects to another mobile network to make calls, send texts or use data while you're outside your usual coverage area.

EU roaming at no extra charge

If you're in a Zone 1 destination (listed on page 10), which covers all EU destinations plus select other destinations, your plan includes data usage up to 15GB per month.

If you go over your data allowance, charges will apply for data usage (£0.20 per MB). While you're roaming in Zone 1, if you call or text to destinations within Zone 1 the below charges will apply. You can stay in control of your spend by setting a spend cap or buying an extra bundle via My AO Mobile.

Zone	Destinations See page 10	Data (per mb)
Zone 1	44	£0.20

When in a zone 1 destination, you can text or call UK numbers for free.

Where roaming charges apply

Roaming outside of Zone 1 isn't included in your plan. Zones 2-5 are listed on pages 10-11. If you're travelling to destinations in Zone 2, you can buy a data bundle in My AO Mobile, all other destinations will incur additional charges.

Zone	Destinations See pages 10-11	Data (per mb)
Zone 2	11	£0.20
Zone 3	94	£1.00
Zone 4	59	£1.00
Zone 5	24	£7.00

Roaming calls and SMS between international destinations

Destinations are grouped into simple regions, that we call zones. And the price you pay depends on which zone you're calling or texting from and to.

Holiday data bundles

We all like a little top-up when we're on holiday. And while we can't help with your tan or your cocktails, we can help keep you connected in your favourite holiday destinations.

You can buy a bundle in My AO Mobile if you run out of data, or just want the reassurance of having more for scrolling and sharing:

EU Top-Up

5GB data (Zone 1)

Use within 7 days of purchase

£10

Holiday Data Lite

5GB data (Zone 2 only)

Use within 7 days of purchase

£15

Holiday Data Plus

15GB data (Zone 2 only)

Use within 14 days of purchase

£35

Bundles are available for 7 or 14 days (where a day is determined as 24 hours from the time of purchase). You can use your data up to the limit you've bought during that time. When your bundle expires, you'll go back to your normal plan allowance for the rest of the month.

Fair Usage Policy

AO's Ultimate 500GB plan includes 500GB of data per month, designed to give you plenty of flexibility for streaming, browsing, and staying connected. To make sure everyone gets a fair experience, we apply the following Fair Usage Policy:

Monthly data allowance

You can use up to 500GB of data each billing cycle. If you reach this limit, out-of-bundle charges or restrictions may apply in line with your plan.

Monitoring your daily usage

Your data is there for you to use and enjoy. However, extremely high usage that goes beyond typical patterns can affect network performance for others. If your usage is considered excessive, we may temporarily reduce your speeds to help maintain network quality.

What counts as excessive usage?

There's no fixed limit, but examples include:

Consistently using very high volumes of data in a single day (e.g. continuous large downloads or streaming over long periods)

Activity that looks like commercial or automated use (e.g. running servers or large-scale data transfers).

Device restrictions

Your AO SIM is designed for use in mobile phones only. Using it in routers, modems or other non-handset devices isn't allowed and may result in your service being restricted or stopped.

Why we do this

These measures are only used in rare cases to protect the network and ensure fair access for everyone. We'll never block your access completely, any speed restrictions are temporary and lifted once usage returns to normal.

Keeping you informed

If we need to apply any restrictions, we'll let you know by SMS or email. You can always contact our support team if you have any questions about your usage.

How we measure data usage

Your data usage comes out of your inclusive allowance.

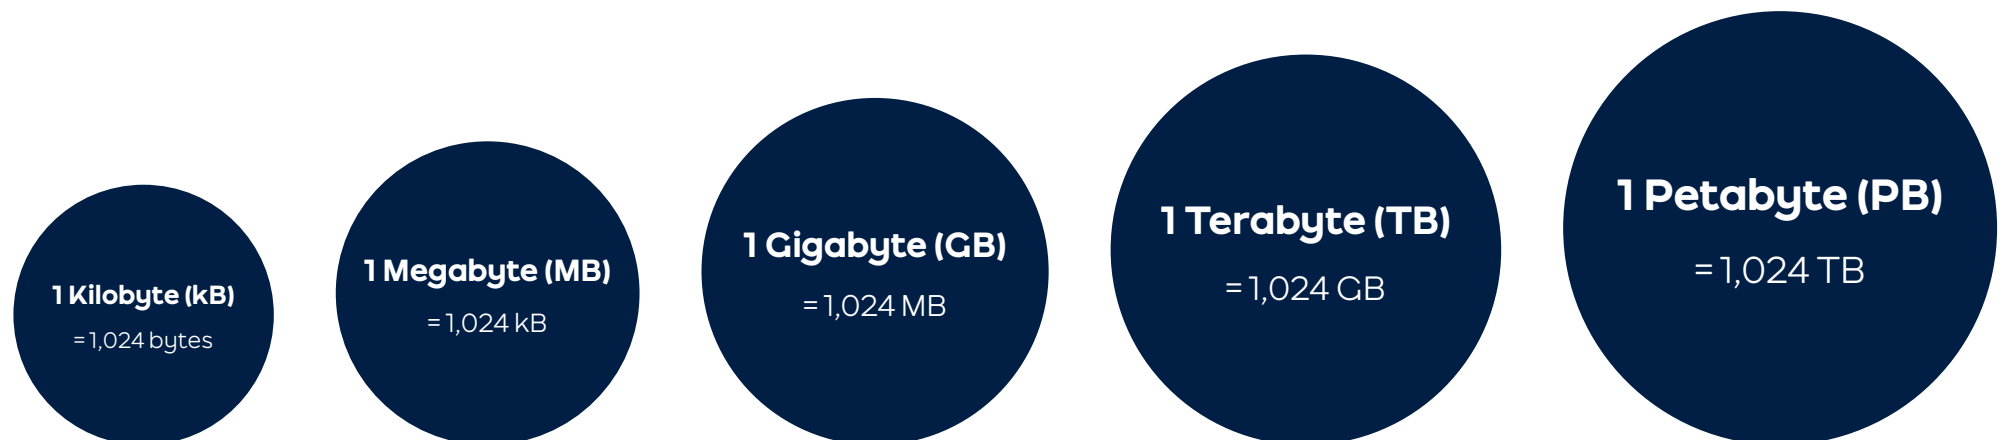

If you need more, you can buy a bundle with a set amount of data for a fixed price.

Data is measured based on how much information is sent and received over the network.

This can include small amounts of extra data used to keep your connection running smoothly.

You're charged in full megabytes (MB), so any usage is rounded up to the nearest MB.

Data is measured in bytes, which build up into larger units:
